

SEAGER, FRANCIS.—Certayne Psalmes select out of the Psalter of Dauid, and drawn into Englyshe Metre, with Notes to euery Psalme in iiij. parts to Synge, by F. S. Octavo.

WYLLYAM SERES. LONDON. 1553.
Emmanuel College, Cambridge.

Goostly psalmes and spirituall songes drawen out of the holy Scripture, for the cōfozte and consolacyon of such as loue to reioyse in God and his worde.

Psal. c. xli.
O prayse the Lorde, for it is a good thinge to synge prayses vnto oure God.

Collo. iii.
Teach & exhorte your awne selues with Psalmes & Hymnes & spirituall songes.

Jaco. v.
If any of you be mercy, let him synge Psalmes
To the boke.

Go lytle boke, get the acquaintaunce
Amonge the louers of Gods worde
Geue them occasyon the same to auance
And to make theyr songes of the Lorde
That they may churst vnder the boorde
All other balettes of fylthynes
And that we all with one accorde
May gene ensample of godlynes
Go lytle boke amonge mens chyl dren
And get the to theyr companye
Teach them to synge þ cōmaundementes ten
And other balettes of Gods glozpe Be not ashamed I warande the Though thou be rude in songe and ryme Thou shalt to youth some occasion be In godly sportes to passe theyr tyme.

and spirituall songes. Fo. xxx.
Magnificat: Which is the songe of the virgin Mary. Luc. i.

My soule doth magnyfie the Lorde, my spret reioyleth greatly, in God my Sauoure & his worde, for he hath sente þ lowe degre, of me his hād maydē truly beholde now after this day

H. ii.