

luncheon to Señor Casals when he came to this country and they welcomed the suggestion which he had taken the liberty of making that the Master and Wardens and Mr. Cobbett should be invited to this luncheon and that the Medal should be presented at that time.

It was resolved that the matter be left to the discretion of Pastmaster Cobbett and Sir Hugh Allen but the hope was expressed that the Medal would be presented at the January Dinner as usual if Señor Casals was able to attend this.
