Carnegie
Scholarships
Palmer
Scholarships

Two letters addressed to J. H. Hill by Mr. Sidney H. Nicholson, the Organist of Westminster Abbey, with reference to the Palmer Scholarships at the Guildhall School of Music were read particularly emphasizing the fact that the amount of the Scholarships were not sufficient to attract clever and suitable boys who propose to take up music as a profession.

The matter was discussed at length and on the proposition of J. H. Edgar seconded by J. H. Hill it was unanimously resolved that the
