

be given the following charge by the Master:

You shall be a good and true Brother unto the Worshipful Company of Musicians whereof you are now a full Brother admitted:

You shall keep to your Power all the lawful Ordnaances and Acts, now ready made within your said Fraternity, as far as shall concern or belong to your Charge:

All these points, as much as in you is, you shall well and truly on your behalf keep and observe to your Power, as near as God shall send you Grace

It was resolved that no action be taken in the matter but that the Master be requested to charge all new Freemen to take up the Freedom of the City as soon as possible, and that the question of the hood be considered by the Master and Wardens.

Cobbett Bequest

The Clerk reported the receipt from the Executor of the late P. M. Cobbett of a sum of £100 bequeathed to the Company by his Will "to be spent at the discretion of the Treasurer from time to time in amplifying the programmes of the music played after the dinners given by the Worshipful Company"

It was resolved after discussion to fund the legacy, but owing to the smallness of the income which it would produce, this was only to be used every two years and then for the purpose of having performed some work associated with

Admission of Honorary Freemen
New procedure