Company's Scholars

The following Report from Mr Landon Ronald the Principal of the Guildhall School of Music on the Company's Scholars was read:

Gentlemen,

June 19th 1919

I have much pleasure in making the following report upon the two scholars. Mr H. S. Taylor, the S. Ernest Palmer Scholar, has made admirable progress in Pianoforte playing, and shows steady improvement in Organ and Harmony.

Mr Reginald Pursglove, the Carnegie Scholar, has worked exceedingly well and made marked improvement in Violin playing, and good progress in Pianoforte and Harmony.

The above pupils, having made such excellent progress I venture to ask the consideration of a further grant of another year's tuition in each case, feeling that it would be extremely beneficial to them.

I am, Gentlemen, Yours faithfully

Landon Ronald

On the proposition of P.M. Sir Frederick Bridge seconded by P.M. ^{Principal} Hill it was unanimously resolved to extend the Scholarships for another year. The following Report of the Examiners for the Carnegie and Palmer Scholarships was read and approved:
