The Worshipful Company of Musicians

Report of the Committee appointed by the Court on the 23rd January 1912 to deal with proceedings at the Annual Livery Banquet

The members of the Committee beg to report that they are unanimously of opinion that the proceedings at the Livery Banquets have become too prolonged, they therefore recommend:

1. That the medal presented annually in rotation to the Royal Academy The Royal College of Music and the Guildhall School of Music be in future presented by the Master with a few words of congratulation and that no other speech in connection with this ceremony be made by any one else. The same remark applies to the medals presented to the Royal Naval School of Music and the Royal Military School of Music 2. That in accordance with previous custom the music of the evening be entirely supplied by the London School of Music receiving the medal the programme of such music to be of short duration and not to exceed six items exclusive of "God save the King" and that it will consequently be impossible to invite the students of the Royal Naval & Military Schools receiving medals to perform pieces after the presentation 3. That the "encores" be left to the discretion of the Master and avoided as much as possible

14 That no Band play In view of the above regard the discussion of a opinion that the recipients medals from the hands of customary than at a special of a concert
