

War Stock. The Treasurer expressed his thanks to the Master and Mr. Hill who, between them had paid the costs of the Music of the Byrd Meeting on the 24th April last, amounting to £11. 2. 6. The Treasurer further stated that he did not propose to offer himself for re-election in October, on the grounds of ill health, and this announcement was received with the deepest regret. It was hoped that the Treasurer would reconsider his intention, and allow himself to be re-elected for another year at least.

Carnegie Trust
Palmer Trust

The Treasurer pointed out that there was a considerable balance of accumulated income on each of the Carnegie and Palmer Trust Accounts, and he suggested the advisability of an investment of income to be added to the capital of the Trusts, and his suggestion was approved.
