Haydn Bicentenary The Report of the sub-committee appointed to consider the proposals for the celebration of the Haydn Bicentenary was received as follows:-

Your sub-committee met on the 12th May and 2nd June and considered various alternative schemes for the celebration of the Bicentenary of Haydn. It was finally decided that a Dinner would be the most suitable form of celebration and the Clerk was instructed to circularise the Court and Livery with a view to ascertaining what support might be expected for such a dinner. The cost of the dinner to the Livery and their guests and the guests of the Court was reduced in view of the national financial situation to 30/-

Twenty-five only of the Court and Livery signified their intention of being present in response to this appeal and the sub-committee met to consider the matter on the 13th June. After discussion it was decided to go on with the dinner, but the idea of having it at Grocers Hall was under the circumstances abandoned.

The programme of music was left to the arrangement of Past Master J. F. Hill and Past Master W. W. Cobbett in consultation with Sir Hugh Allen.
