

He gave a very childish performance of the first movement of Mozart's Sonata in G: he possessed the merest powers of sight reading: his technique was poor & his theoretical knowledge & scale playing were both weak. His powers appeared nothing above the average for a boy of 15. Nor did he shew any promise of future excellence.

M^r. Littleton and M^r. Hill objected that a Candidate having been put forward by the Authorities at St Paul's ought not to be rejected but it was pointed out that the Scholarship Regulations from its commencement clearly stated that an Examination should be held and that in the recent Regulations as settled by the Court the Examiners were instructed to withhold the Scholarship in the event of no Candidate showing sufficient ability.

The matter was discussed at some length and on the proposition of Sir Homewood Crawford seconded by D^r. Southgate it was resolved that the Authorities at St Paul's Cathedral be informed that failing their sending in another Candidate before the end of the month the Authorities at Westminster Abbey would then be invited to submit Candidates for the vacant Scholarship.

String Orchestras
for Schools

The following Report of the Committee with regard to the Suites for School Orchestras was read:

Report of the Committee appointed by the Court on the 22nd April 1913 with regard to Suites for School Orchestras.

Your Committee met on the 7th May 1913 when the letter containing M^r. Cobbett's offer was read, and D^r. Southgate having fully explained M^r. Cobbett's and his own views it was decided that some method ought to be arranged for assuring a proper standard of excellence in the Compositions
