

enjoy, in the companionship of the wounded officers and men of the Overseas Forces, the entertainment kindly provided by the Musicians' Company.

As I cannot be present myself, may I ask you to be good enough to convey from me, as President of the Royal Colonial Institute, on this concluding entertainment, an expression of my grateful thanks to the various City Companies; the Skinners, the Goldsmiths, the Haberdashers, Grocers, Vintners, my own Company, the Merchant Tailors, the Armourers and Brasiers, the Girdlers, and last of all the Musicians, for the generous and liberal way in which they have responded to a suggestion made to them by our Institute that they should take advantage of the presence in London of wounded officers and men of the Overseas Forces, to entertain them, and by so doing establish a new link between the City and the Dominions.

I remain, Yours very sincerely,

Dear Sir,

The Master Wardens and Court of your Company were recently so good as to extend to some of the patients in this Hospital (some of them Colonials) an invitation to be present at the concert which you gave to wounded soldiers in the Mansion House on Monday last the 28th ulto. I am desired by my Committee to express their very high appreciation of your kindness and to tender to you their hearty thanks.
